

Practice Terms and Conditions

Dr. Neely North is a licensed veterinarian, a certified veterinary acupuncturist, and a certified veterinary food therapist. When seeking care from this practice, clients are consenting to treatment of their animals with acupuncture, herbal remedies, essential oils use and applications, homeopathy, nutritional advice, behavior consultation, and referral for physical therapy.

All imaging, surgery, hospitalization, and procedures requiring a clinical facility will be referred to the practice most suited for the individual patient and client's needs.

Pharmaceutical (non-homeopathic) care and vaccinations are not provided by this practice, and if the client requests these services they will be referred to the appropriate practice to serve their animal's needs.

The initial consultation is $150. After this, additional acupuncture sessions are $100 (per pet) unless the session goes over one hour. After one hour, an hourly rate of $135/hour starts. This fee may be applied if there are extensive follow up phone consultations (excluding routine email and phone reporting). Travel fees are additional and are quoted on the services portion of the website. Service estimates will be provided on request.

Payment is accepted by cash, VISA, or MasterCard. Payment is expected at the time of invoice, which will be provided after the consultation.

Normal business hours are 8am-5pm Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. Routine communication will be delivered during these hours. Consultations are available outside of these business hours by request.

Prior to a patient's first appointment, all medical records from every veterinary practice the patient has been registered with are required to be emailed to savannahholisticvet@gmail.com. Medical records are necessary to properly evaluate health history for homeopathic treatment and to permit an efficient intake evaluation. If it is at all possible to obtain a copy of imaging and blood work results, please have these emailed as well.

Email is to only be used for routine communication. Emails will be checked several times a week, but this varies with appointment schedules and practice caseload.
